

ADDRESS NOTE FOR THE PARTICIPANTS

Please find some information about the Asynchronous 3 weeks Program of KEDIVIM of the University of Crete.

- You can access to all necessary details concerning the Program in: <kedivim@uoc.gr>
- Those who will participate in the Program, can communicate with the trainers, Prof. Calogiannakis & Prof. Akin throughout the program via the following email: <humans.digital.kedivim@gmail.com> for comments, questions, and submissions of their e-laboratories, this asynchronous interaction between the trainers and all participants will ensure necessary feedback. The trainers will gather and unified all the e-laboratories and send them to the participants for having a feedback. Also questions and comments will be answered via this email.
- 3-4 units/ppts/texts and the accompanied laboratories will be uploaded every week (each per week)
- The Program will start at 26 of August (1st week), and will end at 15 September(3th week).
- At the end of the Program, the participants will receive the Certificate by the University of Crete (1,8 ECTS/ECVTS)

Some more info about the trainers:

Prof. Pella Calogiannakis -Scientific Responsible- Prof. Sibel Akiin-Sabuncu- Academic Responsible of the Program

Dr. Pella Calogiannakis is Professor of Comparative Education at University of Crete, Greece. She has studied in Paris-V, Rene Descartes, Sorbonne in France. Her research interests: Comparative Education and Political Socialization Processes. She is also a DVP of Zhengzhou University, in China. She is the author of ten books and editor of 12 handbooks; published over 90 articles in Greek, English, French, Chinese, Japanese, Russian, Arab, Turkish and African languages. She has participated in congresses on Citizenship Education (in Europe, United States, Asia and Africa) She coordinates the European Program on the 'Integration of Roma children in schools' and the Director of Post-Graduate Program 'Sciences of Education, Critical Pedagogy and Teachers Education' of the University of Crete. She is a lover of human honest people, Design and Creative Writing too.

Dr. Sibel Akin-Sabuncu, Ass. Professor of Curriculum and Instruction in the Faculty of Education at TED University in Türkiye, obtained her Ph.D. in Curriculum and Instruction at Middle East Technical University and her post-doc degree at Teachers College, Columbia University, U.S.A. She was a visiting scholar at Teachers College, Columbia University (2014-2015 & 2021-2023) and worked with Prof. Dr. A. Lin Goodwin in "Teaching Residents at Teachers College research projects and at the Office of Accreditation and Assessment as the coordinator the conduct of "Teachers College, Columbia University Self-Study Project". Her research interests: of teacher education, immigrant & refugee education, educational equity, social justice, culturally relevant pedagogy. She has presented research studies at leading international conferences and journals. She is also a lover of jazz and blues music & plays saxophone.

Contact person: Ntina Pirgiotaki <npirgio@gmail.com>
Secretary of KEDIVIM of the University of Crete,
BA, MA, Phd Candidate